BC Country Music Artist Kristin Carter Advances to Final Round of CCMA Spotlight Performance Contest

Vancouver, British Columbia, June 11th, 2018 – The British Columbia Country Music Association (BCCMA) is pleased to announce that Kristin Carter has been named the winner of the BC provincial segment of the 2018 Canadian Country Music Association (CCMA) Spotlight Performance Contest.

Initially starting in a wide field of her BC industry peers, Carter advanced to the Top 3 of the BC segment along with fellow artists The Heels and Kadooh, where she was later chosen as the winner by a panel of judges.

As the winning BC artist, Carter will now compete for votes against her provincial rivals for an opportunity to win a grand prize package that includes a performance opportunity during Country Music Week 2018 in Hamilton, Ontario this September.

Linda Corscadden, President of the British Columbia Country Music Association, had this to say about the contest.

“Every year, the talent that emerges from our province astounds me. Every contestant that entered the contest brought their ‘A’ game. The judges certainly had their work cut out for them in every round of the 3-month contest run. I’m very proud of all of our artists - we have the best in the West! Kristin will represent the BCCMA well. I wish her and the rest of the provincial winners all the best in the national portion of the contest.”

For Carter – who is originally from White Rock but later attended Langley Fine Arts School and is now based in Vancouver – this represents the latest milestone in an emerging career that is encouraging all corners of the BC country music community to take notice. Along with her success in the CCMA 2018 Spotlight Performance Contest, Carter is currently a semi-finalist in the 2018 Sirius XM Top of the Country Contest.

“Growing up in BC my whole life, I am incredibly excited and honoured to be representing my home province in the CCMA 2018 Spotlight Performance Contest.” says Carter.

Canadian country music fans will have the final voice in choosing the winner by casting their votes now at surveymonkey.com/r/QWKR5FB until June 22nd at 5PM EST.

The final winner will be announced on June 30th.
