

Country Music Hall of Fame inductees announced BC Country Music Association prepares show to honour artists

Several Lower Mainland-based Industry & Country music makers will be honoured with a Hall of Fame Induction this fall and at the B.C. Country Music Association (BCCMA) Hall of Fame show in Mission.

The BCCMA is proud to announce its 2014 Hall of Fame inductees are: Kenny Hess (Mission), Anne Lord (Chilliwack), Gerry King (Surrey, deceased), Rick Tippe (Maple Ridge), Terry Gray (Langley), Bill Rea (California, deceased), Sue Irving (Surrey), Les Redekopp (Surrey), Jim Howe (Surrey) and Dan Earle (Kamloops).

The BCCMA, with Rockin' River Productions, is taking an exciting approach to the Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony with its presentation of the BCCMA Hall of Fame Show Nov. 9 at Mission, B.C.'s Clarke Theatre (33700 Prentis Ave.).

“The contributions of this year’s inductees were, and are, paramount to the ongoing tradition and success in all areas of country music in B.C.,” says BCCMA vice-president Linda Corscadden. “We are thrilled to have the opportunity to bring you a show honouring these pioneers.”

The Hall of Fame Show will feature performances by Kenny Hess, Kate and Becca Hess, Kama King (Gerry King’s daughter), Jackson Hollow and more to be confirmed in the next few weeks.

This year marks the 28th year since the first induction of Ray McAuley into the BCCMA Hall of Fame - the perfect time to bring together the past and the present.

Support of this show not only pays tribute to these invaluable champions of B.C. Country Music history, but also gives back to help the BC Country Music Association educate the country musicians industry builders of tomorrow.

Tickets for the BCCMA Hall of Fame Show are on sale now at the Clark Theatre box office or online at <http://www.ticketzone.com/hof2014>.

The doors open at 6 p.m. and the show starts at 7 p.m.

The BCCMA is thankful to its sponsors Rockin' River Productions Inc, Roosters Country Cabaret, Lordco (Mission) and Pioneer Chrysler (Mission), who are helping put on the Hall of Fame Show.

Media Contact:

Linda Corscadden

Vice-president, BCCMA

604-533-5088

linda@bccountry.com